

Ten Valor Students head to the White House

(Highlands Ranch, CO—February 9, 2010) Valor was given the unique opportunity this week to take 10 students to “In Performance at the White House: A Celebration of the Civil Rights Movement,” a concert hosted by The President and Mrs. Obama in honor of Black History Month. The students will have the opportunity to personally interview many of the artists that are presenting, including Natalie Cole, John Mellencamp, Bob Dylan, Jennifer Hudson, Seal, The Blind Boys of Alabama, Stevie Wonder and more. The music special, part of the WETA "In Performance at the White House" series, will air live Tuesday, February 9 at 8:00 p.m. ET and again on February 11 at 8 p.m. ET on PBS stations nationwide.

Mrs. Obama is also running a workshop for 120 students from around the country in the State Dining Room during the week in which our students will be in attendance. The workshop has been rescheduled due to inclement weather and should air live today, Tuesday, February 9 at approximately 12:30 p.m. MST on PBS.

View press coverage below.

Colorado Public Radio newsbite

Highlands Ranch Herald

Denver Daily News

Washington Post

